However, Rachel has discovered that the existing building was designed by renowned architect Leonard Manasseh and funding might be available to restore. 8.4	Signage designs shown. Would be A3 laser-cut, £70-80 each panel, then additional for posts and fixing. Same aesthetic as gates. Will make it clearer that this is 'Hilly Fields'. Profile metal to encase would be better. Galvanised grey. Received favourably, suggested that text could be larger. There are 9 main pathway entrances. Will look at a sign in situ & Rachel will then progress to completion.	RM
